Christianity has in fact long vanished not only from the reason but from the life of mankind, that it is nothing more than a fixed idea. In 1841, authoress George Eliot translated Das Wesen des Christentums (The Essence of Christianity) into English, French, and Russian. Feuerbach's endeavor with this work was to wholly humanize theology.

The Notes Taken: Reading Feuerbach

True Christianity "the essence of Christianity" was found in the teachings of Jesus, not in church dogma. In other words the teachings of Jesus were the kernel of Christianity and dogma was the husk. If modern day people were to believe in Christianity they would need to get rid of the husk and embrace the kernel.
