A lockout is a temporary work stoppage or denial of employment initiated by the management of a company during a labor dispute. That is different from a strike in which employees refuse to work. It is usually implemented by simply refusing to admit employees onto company premises and may include changing locks and hiring security guards for the premises.

Thatâ€™s when I knew I had made the right decision. Life was good. I donâ€™t need the money, and I donâ€™t want the job. The world is too beautiful to waste it away worrying about trace impedances and S-parameters, filling out performance reviews, all while sitting under halogen lighting in a 6â€™x6â€™ cubicle.
